CHAUVIN SPORTS DAY, JULY 4th

A Tour Of A Thousand Wonders

This old mother earth of ours has a strange medley of pleasures to offer her children, but there are few of her gifts comparable to the joy of travel. This is particularly true when the way is open for you to visit new places, so novel and enhronting that you really experience new life—see the world from a new angle and go back to the daily routine of life with brighter anticipations for the future.

Especially applicable is this to those who have a new "Wonder World" so accessible, it seems only a holiday trip to be made during your summer vacation, right within your own homeland. In days no further back than ten or twelve years ago, the glorious scenery of the Canadian Rockies in Central British Columbia, which has been opened up by the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, were reserved for the intrepid hunter or prospector and the native red man. Today this playground, so expansive that distances scarcely describe it, is virtually at the door of the tourists, travellers, alpinists and sportsmen. This unspoiled wonderland may be penetrated to the very heart in the luxury of Trunk Pacific Railway has just issued a handsomely illustrated folder descriptive of a "Tour of a Thousand Wonders" through the Canadian Rockies, embracing Jasper Park, Mount Robson Park, the Historic Skena River country, the land of To-

Prospect Valley Picnic

Climatic conditions were none too favorable for the success of the Prospect Valley picnic, it was one of those threatening days with clouds and showers, little rain and much wind. In consequence the crowds were not as large as might have been hoped for, but for all that a pleasant time was spent. A full program of sports was keenly enjoyed by all. Ribstone sent up a baseball team, which was met by the local boys, who have not given much time to practise and as a result let the visitors get away with the victory to the score of 13 to 1.

The dance at night proved a great success, parties coming from Chauvin Ribstone and from all over the country.

New Ribstone

J. A. MacKenzie, Called To The Bar

J. A. MacKenzie, LL.B. of Chauvin, a member of the law firm of May, Simpson and MacKenzie was recently called to the bar at Edmonton.

Mr. MacKenzie, was introduced to our readers through these columns a few weeks ago. He is in regular daily attendance at his office in the Post-office building, Chauvin.

Chauvin Scholars Pass Grade Nine

The following pupils of the Chauvin High School are recorded by the Minister of Education as having passed in the ninth grade, upon the recommendation of Rev. J. C. Anderson, B.A.:—Sadie BBurton, Florence Cahill, Eunice Hass, Harry Heffern, Rita LaPlante, Elsie McCluskey, Elizabeth Morrison, Dorothy Saul.

These scholars will sit for grade ten exams this week.

War Veterans Elect Officers

The Chauvin Branch of the G.W.V. A. held the first meeting at the School-house at Chauvin on Saturday the 28th June at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The members present numbered 30, and all showed themselves keenly interested in the proceedings, and in the future of the new branch. Mr. E. A. Pitman resided. The business of the meeting was largely of routine nature, owing to the work to be attended to in the way of completing the organization.

It was expected that the Provincial Secretary would be present to address the meeting, or someone in his place; but owing to the Dominion Convention at Vancouver commencing on the 30th, it was found impossible to spare a speaker for this meeting. It is very likely that Mr. McInnes will be present at the next meeting, on the last Saturday of July. The following Officers were elected:

Rev. J. C. Anderson Leaves Chauvin

Chauvin has suffered a severe loss by the departure of Rev. J. C. Anderson, who accompanied by his wife, left for Brookdale, Manitoba to resume his work in the ministry.

Rev. J. C. Anderson has been with us for one year as principal of the Chauvin schools, during which time the scholars have made splendid progress. He has also filled the pulpit for the Westminster Church and the mission points connected therewith, in which work he has proved a very efficient man, and his labors have been keenly appreciated by every one in the four congregations.

Mrs. Anderson has likewise proved an energetic and capable church-worker. Under the care and guidance of Mr and Mrs Anderson the Sunday school has grown strong and vigorous and therefore the most widespread regret is felt at the departure which leaves such a gap in our midst. A gap which will not be easy to fill.

At the same time, Rev. and Mrs. Anderson have the best wishes of us all, we trust they may be happy in their new work and calling.

Church Services Will Be Continued

The church managers are in receipt of a letter from the superintendent of missions, in which the writer promises to send a supply for the pulpit each Sunday, and expresses his hope of being able to send a minister to this field at an early date. This will be more easily possible as the men are returning from the front. The managers therefore wish to announce that church services will be held as usual.

Card Of Thanks

The Chauvin Committee Sacred Heart wish, through these columns to express their sincere thanks to the reeve and council for granting a civic holiday, which proved so large a factor in the success of the recent celebration of St Jean Baptiste.

They also wish to thank their many friends for the generous help and assistance in arranging for and conducting the celebrating of St Jean Baptiste.

REV. FATHER J. A. HUET

Municipal District Voters List

Prior to the year 1917 the right to vote at an election for Councillors for a Municipal District was limited to the parties who were assessed for land. In the year 1917, however, the right to vote for Councillors was extended to include the wives, husbands, sons and daughters of the persons assessed, provided such wives, husbands, sons and daughters were twenty-one years of age and resident within the boundaries of the Municipality. It was felt that the relatives of the owners or occupants of land were by their industry assisting both directly and indirectly in the progress and work of the Municipality that they should have a right to say who they wished to carry on the business of the Municipality.

The amendment to the Act, however, which made provisions for these parties voting, placed upon the Secretary-Treasurer the burden of finding out who the parties were that were entitled to vote because of their relation to persons who were assessed, and of entering their names on the voters' List. It was found that it was impossible for a Secretary-Treasurer without a great amount of

The next meeting of the Chauvin Women's Institute will be held Wednesday July 30th.

Agricultural Soc'y Directors Meeting

Directors met in their office, June 28th, President Lt. Col. Rodden in the chair.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and on motion Mr. Tooth—Mr. Kirby were adopted.

The race track committee were not present to report.

Later A. E. Keith reported that progress had been made in its improvement.

Letters were read from both the Provincial and Federal governments relating to government assistance to farmers in securing water.

Moved, Mrs. Armour—Mr. Leggett, that the Secretary write to the Federal Government and ascertain if they would send engineers to this district to discover if by deep boring Artesian wells might be secured.

Moved, Mr. Tooth—Mr. Leggett that the matter of entertaining War Veterans on fair day be left over till next meeting.

Mrs. Holbrook reported that Municipality had promised a grant of $100.00 to the Society. Secretary was to call at the Municipal office for the cheque.

A letter was read from the National War Saving Committee asking for assistance in selling stamps on Fair Day.

Rev. Bakke Resignes Battle River Circuit

(Received too late for insertion in the last issue)

Rev. Bakke and family left for Camrose, Thursday, June 12th.

Sunday, June 15th the Rev. Bakke preached at the morning service in Rev. Ellingson's church, and in the evening he preached the Baccalaureate sermon to the seven commercial graduates of the Lutheran College. Both sermons were preached in the English language.

Wednesday, the day of graduation at Gama College (where by the way Bakke and children lodged), June 18, a fine 812 lb girl baby was born to Rev. and Mrs Bakke, at the Miss Gulson private hospital, same city. Mother and daughter both doing well.

June 16th, Rev. Bakke resigned his charge on the Battle River, north of Chauvin. Services to cease toward the end of September.

Twenty-six pupils are expected to sit for the departmental examinations at Chauvin.

Welcome Home Again

We are glad to welcome the arrival, last Wednesday afternoon, of Freddie LaPlante, home from the front. He is looking well and is glad to be back in our midst. He has seen several years of service and suffered much from wounds.

Quite a nice little crowd of the Rib-stone boys have arrived home from het front during the past week.

R. H. Albrecht arriving Tuesday, the following Thursday Ross Dallyn, Oscar Rudd and Oscar McMann also arrived back in the best of spirits and with an enthusiasm for the Canadian West, which looks better than ever to them.

Presentation To
Rev. Anderson

The Oddfellows and Rebakaks had a surprize party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Anderson last Friday even ing. Mr and Mrs T. H. Saul were the genail hosts and a pleasant time was spent by the whole company.

After refreshments had been seved Noble Grand, William Petre, after a short but appropriate speech, made a presentation in the shape of a black leather travelling bag to Rev. Bro.

Anderson, in the name of the two or-ders. Other brief speeches were made by brothers and sisters present, to which Rev. Bro. Anderson replied, by stating that he had greatly enjoyed his labors in our midst and had only sought to fill his post to the best of his ability.

Bibstone Win The Prize Money

The Ribston baseballers put up a stiff game at the McCafferty Lake picnic, and were successful in bring ing home the second money. Edger-ton succeeding to win the first prize. The scores of the games being as follows:—

George Woodward Jr. met with a nasty fall, Monday afternoon. He was helping Art Vanderlip to catch a pigeon in the lumber yard, and fell from the top of the finishing lumber in the shed, striking upon the elevat-ed walk and bouncing to the ground. At the time of writing his injuries appear to be confined to bruises and abrasions on face and back, also shock. The lad is progressing favor-ably.

The Chauvin Cubs practise Mon-day and Thursday evenings—A better attendance is requested.

Don't let weeds go to seed if you can help it. Pull them by hand if they are few. Cultivate if bad.

Think together—work together—play together is the slogan of the community club movement in Man itoba. Why not develop this idea in your neighbourhood?

STEEL SULKY RAKE
JOHN DEERE SELF DUMP

Built entirely of steel and malleable iron. Steel frame braced by steel angle connections. Foot dump, foot trip and hand lever are connected so as to make operation easy.. Strong wheels, steel axles, trussed rake head, proper cleaner fingers, adjustable seat—these are some of the main features. This is a rake that gives perfect satisfaction in the field. Write for folder.

JOHN DEERE-DAIN
MOWER

Main frame is in one solid piece and will stand the most severe strain. Driving gears consist of but three pieces arranged in such a way that the thrust of one pair equal-izes the thrust of the other pair so that all side wear and strain upon the bearings is eliminated. This construction gives smooth steady motion to pitman and does away with all end thrust in piaman. The extra long wood pitman has least possible angle and gives a powerful stroke. Adjustments are easily made in lining up bar or centering knife. Cutter bar mounted flexibly insures draft hitch permits the Dain mower to overcome all side draft. Write for folder.

Local Notes of Interest

Born to Mr and Mrs C. C. McKech nie, June 25th, a daughter.

The Chauvin public schools began the summer vacations, Friday last.

Over thirty war veterans attended the meeting in Chauvin, Saturday.

Express and freight shipments are now moving freely.

Among the Chauvin visitors to Calgary fair we note the name of Adrew Petrie.

Heavy windstorms passed over the district, Monday.

We regret to learn that Miss Lawrence, the intermediate teacher, terminated her duties last week, and is leaving us.

Mr and Mrs L. E. Roy, accompanied by Mrs. Levasseur, have taken a trip to Edmonton by automobile.

Mr B. A. Rose, of Unity, is now the manager of the Galvin Lumber Co's yard at Chauvin. He expects to take up his residence permanently among us and will bring his wife and family at an early date.

Football practise nights are Mondays and Thursdays—Don't forget it, boys.

The S. Jean Baptiste Society is receiving a donation of books for their library. Those in the French language from Montreal and a large number in English from Toronto.

Ten per cent discount is offered to War Veterans purchasing De Laval Cream Separators:—G. W. Allan & Co., Chauvin.

Chauvin Streets were deserted on Tuesday, the inhabitants having dispersed, some to Wainwright and some to Manitou Lake, and it was only the few who had no car that remained at home. And perhaps they were tempted to wish for once they were fortunate enough to possess a car also, so as to be able to join the merry crowds.

Copies of the Chauvin Agricultural Fair Prize Lists are now in the mail.

Chauvin figured largely in the recent sittings of the court at Wainwright. No less than four cases being slated for hearing by Judge Taylor. In a slander action, Roe, v. J. A. Johnson, the defendant was allowed to amend by paying the costs of the day. In the case Hare v. Swan, a claim for $55.00 and interest, a counterclaim of $15.00 was allowed defendant, judgement for plaintiff, Gifford vs Semple, judgement for Gifford and costs. The Smith v. Levitt case was settled out of court.

G. W. Allan and Co. have just received delivery of a carload of barbed wire.

Good progress is being made on the new Livery Barn. We notice the roof is being put on.

The Westminster Sunday School is sending out a call for workers.

The Chauvin boys organized a picnic of their own to Salt Lake on Dominion Day. Some going on bicycles and others in buggies.

W. Vanderlip and family started early Tuesday morning for Neutral Hills to take in the Round Up.

Rain is still needed in most parts of the district.

Heavy rains have fallen South and South East.

Chauvin Sports day, July 4th

RIBSTONE RECORD

Who said the Ribstone fellows can't play baseball, just watch them carrying home all the prizes.

The Ribstone people were all glad to welcome back Pte Ray Albright, who returned from overseas on Tuesday.

A nice crowd gathered at the station on Thursday to welcome back Pte. Ross Dallyn, whom we were all glad to see. He looks fine. Pte. Mc Mann and Pte. Rudd also returned on the same day.

Mr. Earl Wilde returned on Tuesday from Biggar, Sask.

Mr. L. L. Pound met with a serious accident on Tuesday, when a horse kicked him in the breast and broke one of his ribs. He has been under the doctors care up to the present.

George Kinnie also met with an accident. A horse having kicked him in the leg cutting it to the bone and necessitating the putting in of a few stitches.

Mr. A. Eyre left on Saturday for Macklin, Sask.

The New Ribstone school picnic was a pretty good success, a nice crowd being present.

Nearly all the Ribstone folks are intending to take in the big Round Up. Those who are not are talking of going to Wainwright for the 1st of July.

We are glad to be able to report that Mrs. Cryderman is recovering.

Just give the Ribstone Trading Store a chance and see if they can't fill your order at the right price.

Feed and flour for sale at the Ribstone Trading Store.

Alfalfa Growing

A small field of alfalfa on every farm where live stock is raised will furnish high quality of hay that will be found invaluable for stimulating the growth of young animals since usual proportion of protein, the muscle forming element in the food. As pasture for swine it starts early in the Spring and continues green well into the autumn.

Where a reasonable quantity is sown the plant will continue to bear crops for an indefinite number of years. Thus while the initial cost of seed for hardy strain such as 'Grimm' will amount to $5.20 per acre this cost spread over five years makes the cost of seed only $1.00 per acre per year. Once the crop is sown the only tillage required is disking or cultivating once a year. The other items of expense are the rent of land and the cost of making the hay.

On the Scott Station alfalfa sown in 1913 on deep ploughed and well worked fallow continued to give crops varying from one and three-quarters to three and one-half tons per acre until ploughed up.

As with all other crops with which the farmers are not familiar under our climate conditions it is advisable to start with a small area and increase the acreage as the venture proves successful.

Pasture Crop

For Swine

In curtailing the cost of feeding swine, pasture crops may well be taken into consideration. In the first place the swine require some kind of pasture to reach their best development. In the second place the swine harvest the crop themselves and thus the cost of this feed is very low when compared with high priced grain.

On the Scott Station good results have been secured from pasturing Western Rye grass. Alfalfa and Dwarf Essex Rape. The Western Rye grass starts early in the spring and furnishes good pasture through May. The alfalfa is ready for early June, and later, hogs can pasture on the rape. The latter crop is one that can be sown even as late as the first of August and will produce a fair crop although earlier planting is recommended.

Land that has been summer-fallowed early in the season can later on be sown with rape. This will make fall pasture. There is one objection to this plan and that is that the succeeding crop does not usually yield as well as where no crop has been sown on the fallow.

If no fence is available rape can be cut and fed to the stock. For soiling purposes it should be sown early in the season. In 1917 a plot of Dwarf Essex Rape yielded at the rate of almost eight tons per acre of green feed. In addition there was a second

Cultivation Of

Summer Fallow

Early ploughing of summer fallow is important from the stand point of conserving moisture, since this prevents the loss of moisture from the weeds that grow up on land intended for fallow and in addition the rains penetrate the soil more readily after ploughing. Working the fallow down immediately after ploughing is good practice providing grass or other weeds with growing rootstocks are not present. Where all the trash is buried by the plough the drag harrow will firm the ground and provide a good mulch for conserving moisture. The packer will be found useful where the soil is loose or where making the soil firm to near the surface, the moisture level is raised so that the weeds near the surface are more likely to germinate. Except where the soil is lumpy and hard the disc harrow should not be used since soil drifting frequently follows its use.

On the other hand the cultivator and weederstirs the soil and brings the small lumps to the surface and permits the fine soil to sift down to the bottom of the cultivated land.

There is a new type of weeder known as the rod weeder which is used on some of the large farms in the dry farming areas of Alberta. The plan of this machine is given in the Experimental Farms' pamphlet No. 28. This machine can be made by any farmer and is inexpensive. The advantage claimed for this weeder is that it rubs off the weeds below the surface of the soil and does not work the surface of the ground, consequently, the soil can be frequently cultivated without danger of drifting. Pamphlet No. 28 can be secured from any Experimental Station.

The Frogs Who Wanted A King

In the days of old, when the frogs were all at liberty in the lakes, and had grown quite weary of doing every one as he pleased, they assembled one day together, and, with no little clamor, petitioned Jupiter to let them have a king to keep them in better order and make them lead honester lives.
Jupiter, knowing the vanity of their hearts smiled at their request, and hrew down a log into the lake, which by the splash and commotion it made sent the whole of the frogs into the greatest terror and amazement. They rushed under the water and into the mud, and dared not come within ten lengths of where it lay.
At length one frog, bolder than the rest, ventured to pop his head above the water and take a survey of their new king at a respectful distance. Presently, when they saw that the log lay quite still, others began to swim up to it and around it, till, growing bolder, they at last leaped upon it, and treated it with the greatest contempt.
Dissatisfied with so tame a ruler, they petitioned Jupiter for another king, upon which he sent them a stork, who no sooner arrived than he began laying hold of them and devouring them, one by one as fast as he could, and it was in vain that they endeavoured to escape him. Then they sent Mercury with a private message to Jupiter, beseeching him that he would take pity on them once more; but Jupiter replied they were only suffering punishment due to their folly, and that another time they must learn to let well alone, and not be dissatisfied with their natural conditions.

Let well alone.

ly proud and reserved. It was this high-strung temperament, taking alarm at the evident emotion under which Bert was laboring as the two friends clasped hands, that led to a swift change in Tom's manner in the very moment of greeting; the swift resolution that if all else was lost he would not betray what he conceived to be his manhood by a weak giving way to womanish emotion and maybe to womanish tears.

'Tom, old man, Tom, I cannot tell you—' and Bert turned away to hide the feelings which his broken voice expressed too well.

'Oh, dash it all, Bert, don't let's slobber over it,' and Tom's voice was sharp and almost angry in its tone. 'The blooming crop's gone and that's the end of it all—careful chaps like you and Jim Hardie would never have left that opening in the fireguard—and if you had, the wind would have turned round and blown the other way—an Irishman's luck is like a boomerang; you think it is going to knock the other fellow down, and then it turns and wipes your own eye. The crop's gone up in smoke and my farming ambitions have gone up with it—so there's no more to be said about it.'

'Oh, TomKfor heaven'ssake don't take it like that. There's not one of us that would let you go under because the crop's gone—if it were only the crop—'

'Only the crop—well, that's a pretty tidy slap in the face for poor beggars like Jack and me—of course, a crop more or less, I suppose, doesn't matter to old establishd people like your father and Jim Hardie—'

'Tom, you know I don't mean that, but, Tom, there are worse things than losing a crop—don't make my task harder—be yourself, Tom.'

'Man alive, Bert, don't talk in riddles.'

'There's Jack—'

'Of course there's Jack, why didn't he come over himself? He knows very well it has hit me harder than it has him,' added Tom bitterly.

'Jack's not back from town—Jim Turner brought the horse and rig back—Jack was kept in town.'

'Jacknot back—I suppose you are going to tell me Jack spent the time our crop was burning by celebrating the family good fortunes in a drunken spree—if that's it he was a day short in keeping his promise—thank God, I wasn't—you've only got to tell me he's got locked up for some rowdy quarrel and the thing will be complete—I have provided the ruin and he caps it with disgrace.'

'Tom, you don't know what you're saying; come inside and pull your-mother's sake,' and Bert drew Tom into the house and closed the door. 'Now, Tom, listen to me, and don't say a word till you know the truth.'

Awed by the impressiveness of Bert's manner and by the almost sternness of his voice, Tom took his seat by the table, and resting his head on his open hands, he looked his friend steadily in the eyes.

'All right, Bert, go ahead—I can take all you've got to give me—where's Jack?'

'Jack is in the prison cells in Minnedosa Town Hall—no, Tom, don't break in,' as the latter started and uttered a meaning 'Ah' under his voice; 'I muse tell you the whole story as Jim Turner told it me, and then there's a note from Mr. Jordan to confirm it.'

When Jack got to town last night he found that Shaw was in the country and would not be home till late from the intensity of the struggle with which he maintained his self control, still his voice was quiet and firm, 'Is that all?'

'Jim Turner was in the crowd and went with him to the Town Hall and then went and fetched Mr. Jordan, who went right over with him to Jack, and Mr Jordan sent up this note by Jim,' and Bert handed to Tom a half sheet of paper, twisted

Tom took it mechanically and smoothed it out on the table, and read it slowly, first to himself and then a second time aloud.

'Dear Tom,—Jim Turner will tell you the truth of Jack's trouble. I am with him now and will stay with him till you get down. Jack is filled with remorse for the disgrace he feels he has brought on you, and he says for failing in his promise to you. Dr. Casey is attending the wretched cause of all this trouble, but can give on opinion yet. Remember, Tom, Jack is your brother, and honestly as a man, if not as a parson, I cannot blame Jack for what he did. When you come down drive straight to the Rectory, and be sure what can be done shall be, by, Yours, 'E. J.'

Tom folded the letter and put it carefully in his breast pocket, and then turned to Bert who was watching him, anxious as to what lay beneath this quiet in Tom's voice and manner.

'Will you hitch up the mare for me, Bert, while I wash myself and put a few things together; and say, don't let any of the other fellows come over from Berg's.'

'And I'll come down with you, Tom.'

'Thank you, Bert, and the sooner we start the better, and Bert, forgive me my thankless reception of your first coming—I thought I had nothing worth living for when I saw my summer's hopes burn away in last night's fire—and when I was so ready to blame poor Jack—but I have one thing left to do if I can—to try and keep the promise I gave my mother when I left home, that looking after Jack should come first. If I can save him and the old name the rest may go, and be—no, I won't say that in the same breath with my mother's name.

ARTLAND BEACH

That we have a beach with long strands of silver sand, and wooded banks sloping to the blue waters of Stanmore Lake is known to but a few.

Why people on Sunday's don't fill their cars with children and picnic baskets, and hie themselves off to this attractive spot has often caused us surprise.

At present it is in the exclusive enjoyment of an outfit of adventurous spirits, who any fine Sunday may be observed desperately clinging to a hand car speeding to the tempting shore.

We learn that Miss Reid has resigned from the duties of teacher at Stanmore School.

This step will be viewed with general regret, not the least so, by her young friends in Artland, who since privilege of being under her tuition.

The dance at Stanmore School on Friday evening which was tendered as a farewell to Miss Reid, turned out a great success.

The occasion offered an opportunity to her numerous friends to assemble, and while having a real good time, express the wide regret felt at the severance of her relations with the School.

The crowd not being too large for dancing, things kept "humming" in fine style.

Two railway cars are at present side tracked at this point with a Grand Trunk engineer and party on board.

We understand the object of this visit to be, the survey and striking of Artland town lots.

Manitou Council

The meeting of the Manitou Lake Council is postponed to Monday, the 7th day of July, 1919, through the unavoidable absence of the Secretary on the 30th of June.

Municipal District

labour to make a complete list of these people. For example, sons and daughters of persons assessed are entitled to have their names placed on the Voters' List when they become twenty-one years of age, and when the Secretary-Treasurer was required to make up the list it was absolutely impossible for him to do so properly without making a canvass of the entire District each year, inquiring as to when these parties became of age, also as to whether or not they were resident in the Municipality. This being the case it was felt to be unfair that such a burden should be placed on that official, therefore, at the last session of the Legislature, the Hon. A. G. MacKay, Minister of Municipal Affairs, introduced an amendment which has now become law, requiring all persons who were Councillors, because of their being wives, husbands, sons or daughters of persons assessed, to register their names with the Secretary-Treasurer.

All parties entitled to vote because of their relationship to a person assessed must make application to have their names placed on the Voters' List, otherwise they will not be able to vote at the election for Councillors. Such application must be made to the Secretary-Treasurer of the District sometime between November 1st and December 31st both inclusive of each year, during the usual office hours. Application may be made personally by the person claiming the right to vote, or it may be made through the party on account of whose assessment an applicant claims the right to vote. All persons who art of the opinion they have the right to vote under this provision should therefore be careful to make application to have their names placed on the Voters' List in due time, so that they may be able to cast their ballots at the next election for Municipal District Councillors.

Another amendment to the provisions of the Municipal District Act in also be noted. That is an amendment connection with the Voters' List should to Section 88 of the Municipal District Act, which requires a copy of the Voters' List to be posted up at some central place in each polling division in the Municipal District. As the Act formerly stood, it only required that there should be a copy of the Voters' List posted in the Secretary-Treasurer's office. This was inconvenient, because it frequently meant a special trip of quite a few miles, if an elector wished to find out whether or not his name was on the Voters' List.

Unless the business of a Municipality is controlled by an active and intelligent public opinion, there cannot be the results there should be from our Municipal Organizations. With the widening of the franchise and the making of additional provision whereby parties entitled to vote may make sure that their names are on the Voters' List, there will be an incentive to greater interest being taken in Municipal affairs, as one of the weak spots in rural Municipal Organization in the past has been the lack of interest on the part of the majority of the electors as to who should be elected, Councillors.
